AUSTRO-GERMAN DEFEAT
AT BATTLE OF KRASNİK.Russians in Strong Position, with Railways to Aid Troop Movement.Tremendous Teuton Reinforcements Arrive to Begin Another Drive on Calais—Severe Fighting on Gallipoli Peninsula with Allies Only Six Miles from Narrows of Dardanelles.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, July 7.—By the employment of strong reinforcements, the Russians have temporarily, at least, checked the Austro-German advance toward the Lublin Railway, which, if successful, would seriously imperil Warsaw. The Russians yesterday claimed to have inflicted a serious defeat on the Austro-German army in the region of Krasnik, south of that railway, while the Austrians tonight state that "the battle was invigorated by the participation of strong Russian reserves."

So far as communications are concerned, the Russians now have the advantage of position, as they have a splendid system of railways behind them on which they can quickly move troops and guns to the threatened area. This battle, one of many since the Austro-Germans commenced their drive through Galicia, has only just commenced, but, according to dispatches received in Geneva from Austrian sources the Russians have thus far had the best of it, and since Monday have inflicted very heavy losses on the invaders.

These dispatches state that thousands of wounded are continually arriving in Lemberg, Przemysl and Jaroslau.

IN THE WEST.

The much-heralded German onslaught in the west has been confined to the Woerwaere region, where the army of the German Crown Prince is on the offensive and making efforts to regain the ground which it lost to the French in April when the latter attempted to force the withdrawal of what is known as the St. Mihiel Wedge. The Germans have won some trenches at the tip of the wedge, but at other points, according to French accounts, they were repulsed with heavy losses. Artillery combats continue from Arras.

BIG TURKISH ATTACK FAILS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, July 7.—The Turkish forces completely failed in the big attack which they began on July 4 against the Anglo-French forces on the Dardanelles, according to a statement issued today by the British official press bureau, which added that the Turks lost heavily.

The text of the statement follows: "On the 4th inst. Hamilton reports that the night of July 4 was quiet in the northern section, but at 4 a.m. the enemy started a heavy bombardment of the trenches. All the guns used previously against us and some new ones were in action, but the bombardment died away about 6 a.m. and did not resume until 11 a.m. During the bombardment about twenty 11.2-inch shells were dropped from a Turkish battleship in the straits.

"In the southern section the Turks kept up a heavy shelling along the whole line during the night and did not leave their trenches. At 4 a.m. the batteries started their most violent bombardment that has yet been experienced. At least 5000 rounds of artillery ammunition were expended by the Turks.

"Meanwhile this shelling of our lines on the peninsula proved the preliminary to a general attack on our front with special efforts at certain points."

ITALIANS SCALE MOUNTAIN AND DEFEAT AUSTRIANS.Thirty Men of the Alpine Troops, Tied Together by Ropes and Packing a Machine Gun on Their Backs, Climb Almost Perpendicular Cliffs 7000 Feet and Drive Enemy from Position.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

U DINE (Italy) July 7 (via Paris).—Details have now been received of the taking by the Italians of Zelenkofel Peak, west of Monte Grocco Pass on June 28.

This mountain is over 7000 feet high and is usually ascended from the Austrian side, as the Italian slope has been considered impassable.

The Austrians had a fixed observation point with forty men well entrenched just below the top of the mountain whence they signalled with the heliograph to their artillery below.

The Italians, finding it impossible to take the front line, which is extremely steep and was exposed the whole way to the enemy's fire, decided to try the route which has been considered impossible. Thirty volunteers from the Alpine troops, headed by two lieutenants, climbed the almost perpendicular face of the mountain, tied together by ropes. Notwithstanding the difficulties of the ascent they carried a machine gun in pieces which were strapped on their shoulders.

Germany's Proposals.

ment must make a formal request for the use of the good offices of the United States, since an independent suggestion from the President would result only in a direct rebuff to the American nation.

The State Department has no information to confirm the report from Berlin that the formal reply of Germany to the President's note will be handed to Ambassador Gerard on Friday or Saturday. The understanding here is that the Berlin authorities desire to ascertain the views of the President on the informal suggestions made. If this government should fail to answer or should reply in a negative way, the reply will be revised in order to meet more nearly the desires of this government. However, it is stated emphatically that there is one point which Germany will not concede and that is what Mr. Wilson urged the committee of submarine attacks upon unarmed mercantile craft.

IS QUIETLY GETTING READY FOR

Commission has Left for Arras and Mondonville—Officials Deny Any Intention of Joining the Present War on Either Side.

(LA. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MADRID, June 22.—The Spanish government recently has been active in the preparation of military and naval armament. Artillery, small arms and projectile factories are working night and day and the Ministry of War, under the direction of the Minister of the Interior, is increasing their capacity, has during the last several days visited those at Trilaba, Oviedo, Granada and Seville.

From Paris.
PARIS, July 7.—The following official communication was issued by the War Office tonight:

"Quite spirited artillery actions have taken place in the region north of Arras. In the sector of Quinzevierres, on the heights of the Meuse there was a violent bombardment of our positions at the foot of Apremont, after fierce engagements which continued part of the morning, the infantry action reported in the preceding dispatches ceased, the enemy, who suffered material losses, making no definite gains at any point.

"The allies are only six miles from their goal, the narrow of the Dardanelles, but the country between is strongly fortified and a gain of a few hundred yards is all that can be expected at one time. There is talk of a new combined general attack by land and sea forces.

"The idea seems to be that Spain should be able to defend her own territory and particularly the Balearic Islands, and that the Spanish fleet should Spanish possessions enter into the calculations of the makers of the final terms of peace.

"Besides this motive the Spanish government considers it has been negligent in military and naval matters and in view of the complete unexpectedness of some of the events which has characterized the present conflict it now finds it the part of wisdom to be prepared against any event.

"The idea seems to be that Spain should be able to defend her own territory and particularly the Balearic Islands, and that the Spanish fleet should Spanish possessions enter into the calculations of the makers of the final terms of peace.

PERPLEXITIES
FOR WILSON.Has not Yet Decided to Answer Gerard's Note.To do so May Open America's Position to Discussion.Hope for Amicable Settlement Still Strong.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Upon President Wilson tonight rests the decision as to what reply, if any, shall be sent to Ambassador Gerard's message outlining the tentative draft of a note submitted to him informally by the German Foreign Office as a proposed answer to the American communication of June 9, concerning submarine warfare.

Secretary Lansing and other advisers of the President have been transmitted by mail and telegraph to him, at his summer residence at Cornish, N. H., their views on the policy they believe ought to be pursued. It was only stated, however, tonight that no word had been received as yet as to the President's position. It was intimated, too, that Mr. Wilson might not be ready to act until tomorrow or Friday, as there are delicate questions involved, which require the utmost deliberation.

The situation is somewhat perplexing to high officials here because they are reluctant to engage in an informal discussion of questions which, they hold, were clearly stated in the American note. At the same time, they are anxious that Germany may have no misconception as to what the United States would take in the event of a conflict.

Some of the officials were generally reticent regarding Ambassador Gerard's conversation with German Foreign Office functionaries. It was said that his message, which was made clear to him, was that the German government had asked him to obtain the views of the United States on the tentative draft of a note submitted to him informally by the German Foreign Office as a proposed answer to the American communication of June 9, concerning submarine warfare.

Additional dispatches to the State Department from Mexico were outlined in this summary.

VILLA IN GUANAJUATO.
A dispatch dated July 6, from San Luis Potosi stated that Guanajuato has been occupied by Villa troops. It is stated that this will permit the exit of American troops from the city. The San Luis Potosi district is quiet. It is reported that the Villa forces have also recovered the towns of Cordoba and Matamoros.

"Train service between Laredo and Monterey was suspended July 6. A battle has been in progress for about six days in the vicinity of Paredon. The Carranza army announced the receipt of a dispatch declaring the Villa army had been completely routed by the Carranza forces at Villahermosa, Laredo and Paredon. Villa forces were said to have suffered a loss of 600 killed and wounded. The agency added that a severe fight near Paredon also had resulted in a Carranza success.

REFUSE NEWS OF BIG BATTLE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
LAREDO (Tex.) July 7.—A rigid censorship established today by Carranza authorities in Nuevo Laredo prevented the publication of any news concerning the battle near Paredon, Mex., where Villa and Carranza forces were reported to have sustained heavy losses in recent fighting.

Military authorities in Nuevo Laredo indicated that both sides had engaged in a desperate struggle, but admitted that a big battle was imminent. A report from the front, unconfirmed by official dispatches, had reached the confidential agency to the effect that the advancing Villa army had captured the important stronghold of Leon, and that the Carranza army continues its retreat southward.

VILLA EXONERATED.
That there has not been the slightest foundation for the charges against the forces of Gen. Villa, of interference with Red Cross supplies, is emphasized by Miss Mabel T. Boardman of the American Red Cross.

News of the result of Carranza's last attempt to drive the Spanish garrison out of Mexico City was awaited with anxiety tonight by officials of the American government. No word from the fighting has come since it was announced from Vera Cruz two days ago that the Carranza army under Gen. Gonzalez had captured the city.

Measure for the relief of non-combatants in the republic were continued today as far as conditions permitted. Consul-General Hanna at Monterrey stated that the Carranza army had been feeding 16,000 persons from American relief supplies. Officials of the Chinese legation in Washington stated that the State Department and the Red Cross for the care of destitute Chinese in Mexico. A check for $100,000 was tendered to the Chinese legation in Mexico City for the present. Eliseo Arredondo, Carranza agent in Washington, reiterated in a statement tonight that in these conditions of Mexico over which Carranza had control there was no famine danger and "no shortage of foodstuffs for the people."

DEL RIO (Tex.) July 7.—A band of Mexicans reported to be Carranza adherents who yesterday raided the San Miguel ranch, killing three Mexican cowboys and driving off large numbers of horses, was attacked by Villa troops early today and severe fighting resulted, according to travelers who reached here tonight.

The ranch, owned by Rose and Miles of Del Rio, is situated forty miles west of this place on the Mexican side of the international boundary. About 100 men composed the raiding party.

Nothing has been heard here to indicate the outcome of the fighting between the Carranza and Villa troops.

Washington Conference—Fall of

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 7.—Enrique C. Llorente, Gen. Villa's Washington agent, declared today that his conference here with Miguel Llanza, Carranza's Minister of Foreign Affairs, was not connected with the making of possible peace terms with Carranza.

Although the conference has been scheduled for more than a week, Llorente has made no effort heretofore to correct the impression that he and Llanza were preparing a new proposal to be submitted to Carranza. The conference, Llorente says, concerns the establishment and extension of the convention government's consular service here and abroad.

No new peace proposals will be made to Carranza until he replies to Villa's overtures, made shortly after President Wilson issued his warning to the Mexican factions.

The Carranza junta here, however, says the first Villa proposal was an "insulting" one and that Villa can't expect an answer. The Carranza faction is confident that a new proposal will result from the Llanza-Carranza conference, despite denials from the other side.

ACCUSE THE RED CROSS.
Officials manifested unusual interest today in a statement issued by the Carranza agency containing serious insinuations that the American Red Cross agency in Mexico are deliberately exaggerating the reports of famine conditions in the country.

Denials that the Villista authorities were interfering with the distribution of Red Cross supplies was issued by the Villa agency today. It was also claimed that the Villa army had captured Leon and that the Carranza army continues its retreat southward.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Although Department of Justice officials are confident they have nipped in the bud the plan to ship large numbers of Montenegrins back to their native country to join the Serbian army, tonight there was no present intention of preventing the departure of Montenegrins who already have been ordered to start for home.

Officials here, therefore, were not expected to learn that 145 recruits had been shipped up to the front. It is said the government are to be charged with the conviction of a charge of violating neutrality. The Montenegrin government is charged with urging their countrymen to return home.

RESOLUTE IS TOO SPEEDY.

GREENWICH (Ct.) July 7.—By a margin of 1m. 6s., elapsed time, and 2m. 17s. corrected time, the sloop yacht Resolute won today from the Vanitie in a thirty-mile race on Long Island Sound.

The yacht sailed twice over a triangular course of fifteen miles for a prize offered by the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, and under the management of its Regatta Committee.

DRY NATION IS THE SLOGAN.

Anti-Saloon League Hears Tirade Against Liquor.

Absolute Prohibition Predicted in Five Years.

Women of West Praised for Their Heroic Work.

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 7.—Stirring addresses were delivered against the liquor traffic at today's session of the convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America and predictions will be achieved by 1920 if the sentiment for a saloonless nation continues to grow as it has in the last two years.

Forty State superintendents of the Anti-Saloon League addressed two meetings held simultaneously, and told of the progress being made to bring about a complete suppression of the liquor traffic.

At the morning session former Gov. Foss of Massachusetts said national prohibition was the only remedy to prevent the new Constitution now in the hands of the States so that they may determine whether they want national prohibition.

TAMMANY AND BARNES.

William H. Anderson, superintendent of the league in New York, speaking on conditions in his State, charged that attempts have been made to have the new Constitution now in process of construction so framed as to protect the liquor interests.

He attacked William H. Barnes for his attitude on the liquor question, and said that the only difference between Tammany Hall and the Republican party was that Tammany was for the liquor interests and did not care who knew it, while the Republicans were for the same interests but did not want anybody to know it.

Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles presided at one of the night meetings, and Gifford Pinchot was in charge of another.

During the night session each meeting ratified the following resolution which had been adopted by the national board of directors:

"Resolved, that we greatly sympathize with the President of the United States in the tremendous responsibility which now rests upon him and we devoutly pray that Almighty God may give him wisdom to guide and sustain him in these critical days."

WOMEN PRAISED.

In an address on "The Fight for Prohibition in the Pacific Northwest," the Rev. A. W. Leonard of Seattle told the delegates that women had done some of the most remarkable work.

On November 3, 1914, Oregon went for State-wide prohibition with a total majority of 36,480. Nine hundred saloons and eighteen breweries in ninety-eight towns were closed.

"Idaho decided that this should be done. This will be voted upon November next and will undoubtedly pass by an overwhelming majority."

Washington also decided that this should be done.

"In this connection no one organization or agency is entitled to more praise than the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. When little else was being done to educate the public on the subjects of State-wide prohibition, the members of this organization were tireless in their efforts. They organized their auxiliaries in every town, city and county, and boldly proclaimed that the people of Washington would some time strike the enemy its death blow. It was due chiefly to the efforts put forth by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union that action teaching regarding the effects of alcohol on the human system was introduced by legislative enactment. All honor to the noble, self-sacrificing women of the W.C.T.U. for their splendid achievements in the common cause."

PRESENCE OF POISON.

Within ten days the chemist reported the presence of poison in the digestive organs, and the futile search for Muester was begun.

Two months after Muester's disappearance his colleagues here received copies of a pamphlet entitled "Protest" which contained a discussion of the charges against him, followed by a rambling analysis of existing social conditions and the treatment of those accused of crime without proof.

On the latter subject the writer said in part:

"Take my case. Even without the process of law, the spirit of revenge and prosecution of the law which the newspapers so brightly and painfully reflect has branded me as a criminal. The eyes of all who read the atrocious accounts of my case are turned to me as a brutal murderer, a thing to be despised and to be shuddered at, an outcast of society, an enemy of the community, a wild beast that must be hunted down and be either killed or caged up for the safety of the community."

"The lesson that you teach me I will execute, and it shall go hard; but I will better serve my innocence to you, knowing whether I was innocent or guilty you have reviled me, you have cast me out. If I do not strain every nerve to get revenge on you, I am a brutal murderer, a thing to be despised and to be shuddered at, an outcast of society, an enemy of the community, a wild beast that must be hunted down and be either killed or caged up for the safety of the community."

REPORT AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Secretary Lansing said today that several weeks ago reports had been informally called to his attention by some of the embassies here of alleged plots to destroy plants manufacturing munitions of war or to place bombs on ships leaving American ports, and that the subjects had been referred to the Department of Justice for investigation.

He had not heard, however, that any evidence had ever been found to prove that such plots existed.

TEXT OF LETTER.

The text of Holt's letter telegraphed to the Navy Department was as follows:

"A steamer leaving New York for Liverpool should sink, God willing, on the seventh. It is the Philadelphia or the Saxonia (Saxonia) but I am not quite sure, as these left on the second or third."

SAFE

Stocks and investments may depreciate in times of stress but REAL ESTATE in Los Angeles will always be a safe investment and a good asset.

NOW is the time to buy that home and cut out paying rent. Now is the time to start saving money for yourself. We have sold hundreds of homes to men who could not pay more than the average rent. TODAY they have their DEEDS instead of a worthless bunch of paper rent receipts. They NOW own their own homes and are building up a bank account instead of supporting a landlord.

Which Is Best for YOUR FAMILY?

Investigate—the following homes are offered at prices you cannot afford to overlook. NOW is the TIME to buy and make every dollar count.

Two Good Buys $75 Cash

Cosy home, 4 rooms, bath and screen porch—gas, electricity, water, street work, fruit trees, lawn and flowers—a real home—20 minutes from Broadway by 5c yellow car—only $1850—$75 cash and $17.50 a month, including interest.

$100 Cash

Five rooms, bath and screen porch—on a big lot with lawn, flowers, and all modern conveniences—two blocks from 5c yellow car—20 minutes from Broadway—a snap—$2350—worth $2500—$100 cash and $20 a month including interest.

Call or phone—only a few minutes to see both of these homes.

MESSAGE—

[illegible][illegible]

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS. EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Go North to Marry.

St. Paul O. Jerome of Los Angeles and Gertrude J. Landers of San Francisco, and Charles H. Chandler and Imogene Walsh, both of Los Angeles, took out marriage licenses at San Rafael yesterday.

For More Boulevards.

The following Chamber of Commerce special committee has been appointed to consider plans for the building of boulevards throughout Southern California: S. A. Butler, chairman; R. W. Dromgold, J. H. Byrly, and J. H. Byrly.

Bible Institute Chimes Completed.

The chimes on the Bible Institute rang out for the first time yesterday from 11:30 to 12 noon, and again last night at 7 o'clock. They will be rung regularly each evening at 7 o'clock. They look well on top of the north building, and are in full view from many points of the city.

To Hollywood Presbyterians.

Alfred L. Bartlett will be the principal speaker at the July meeting of the Men's Club of the West Hollywood Presbyterian Church next Monday evening. Among other numbers will be a tenor solo by Alexander Hannum and piano solo by Joseph W. Schoepner. All the men of the community are cordially invited.

Charter Suggestions.

The Chamber of Commerce has been invited by the Board of Freeholders to submit suggestions in connection with the formation of the new city charter and President Bulla has appointed a temporary Charter Committee consisting of William Mead, chairman; Frank Simpson, S. A. Butler, F. J. Whiffen and H. J. Goudge.

Banquet for Mayor.

An inaugural banquet in honor of Mayor Sebastian will be held this evening at the Hotel Hollywood. The affair will be formal and a large attendance is assured by the number of acceptance invitations issued by the committee of arrangements. Former Mayor Rose will be toastmaster and Thomas Foss chairman. There will be speaking and vocal and instrumental music.

Teamster Terribly Injured.

Manikoff Arshak, 28 years old, a teamster of No. 1523 East Fourth street, was probably fatally injured early yesterday afternoon when his horse ran away and dragged him along East First street for nearly half a block. He was thrown under the wheels of his wagon and internally hurt. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and later removed to the County Hospital.

Tribute to Dr. Ricknell.

A resolution, introduced by Councilman Conwell, on the death of Dr. Frederick T. Ricknell, was adopted by the Council yesterday. Dr. Ricknell was referred to as "an eminent physician, distinguished philanthropist and high-minded citizen, who for thirty-five years has taken an active and worthy part in the community," and the Council expressed appreciation for his services and regret at the loss sustained through his death.

Service at Ocean Park.

The second of the Sabbath services at Ocean Park will be held at Masonic Hall, Marine street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. Hecht of Temple Beth El and Cantor Weinstock of Sinai Congregation will be in charge. Mr. Weinstock will read the service, and chant the liturgical parts, assisted by the choir; Miss Rosemstein of El Paso, Tex., will render the solo, and Dr. Hecht will read "The Requirements of Religion." Miss Adler will preside at the piano.

K. of C. De Luxe Special Today.

The La Salle General Assembly, Knights of Columbus, special train de luxe from Chicago will arrive this afternoon at 2:30 via the Southern Pacific from San Francisco. This party numbers over 200, and will be at the Hotel Clark for several days while seeing Los Angeles and vicinity. This party is in charge of V. Z. Bayard of the Chicago and Northwestern tours department, and will make the trip to San Diego before leaving for the East. The Knights are on their return from the annual convention in Seattle.

Federal Offices Move.

There was a general break yesterday of the employees of the field service of the local Land Office to Santa Fe, N. M., and of the reclamation office, which has been ordered to Denver, O. H. Knaght, chief electrical engineer of the local reclamation service, will tender his resignation to the government as soon as the affairs of the new office are settled. Mr. Knaght refuses to leave Los Angeles permanently. All of the big work accomplished by the local office for the past ten years has been under his management.

SCHOOL EXPERT ARRIVES TODAY.

COMMISSIONER CLAXTON HERE TO PITCH PEACE.

Man Regarded as America's Foremost Educator to Address Gathering of Civic Organizations Under Auspices of Carnegie Endowment on Sunday Evening.

Hon. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, will arrive in Pasadena on the Santa Fe Limited this afternoon. He comes direct from Washington as the emissary of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and while here will be the guest of President James A. B. Scherer of Throop College. He is to make two addresses here—one before the City Club at noon Saturday and the other at a peace mass meeting in Trinity Auditorium Sunday evening, when his subject will be "The Possibilities of Humanity Under a Reign of Peace." This meeting will be attended by representatives of practically every local civic body and educational institution.

Among the several hundred vice-presidents designated for the occasion are the pastors of many city churches, the Mayor, members of the Council, city and county Boards of Education, women's clubs, Chamber of Commerce, City Club, Church Federation, United Charities, Council of Social Agencies, Occidental, Pomona, Whittier and Torrance colleges, University of Southern California, State Normal School and the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations.

Dr. Claxton has had a notable career. After graduating from the University of Tennessee in 1882 and spending a year in Johns Hopkins as a graduate student, he spent some time in Europe studying educational methods and conditions there. He has been professor of pedagogy and education in the North Carolina State Normal and Industrial College, has been Superintendent of Schools in three cities of the East, and has held the position of inspector of high schools for the University of Tennessee. He has edited two educational magazines. The position of United States Commissioner of Education has been held by him since July 1, 1911. Dr. Claxton is a member of the Rockefeller Sanitary Commission, a director of the moral education board, a member of the council of the National Education Association and also of the Southern Education Association, director of the Playground Association of America, member of the National Society for the Scientific Study of Education and vice-president of the American School Peace League. He has devoted much study to the rural schools, and the great work that he has done in the field of fundamental branch of education has been felt throughout the entire school system.

PERSONALS

Hon. Theodore Sumnerland of California, Cal., formerly a popular member of the Los Angeles City Council and once State Railroad Commissioner, is in Los Angeles with Mrs. Sumnerland, staying at No. 833 South Hill street. Mr. Sumnerland was the first Exalted Ruler of Los Angeles Lodge of Elks and is receiving many greetings from the antlered brethren and other old friends.

CARAVAN READY TO SEEK MECCA.

Nobles of Mystic Shrine to Depart Tomorrow.

On Splendid Special Train; Seattle Objective.

Will Spend a Day at Oasis of San Francisco.

Camels bearing the healing waters of sem-tem are being laden; Abdallah, Abou and all the other local tribesmen are gathering for the pilgrimage over the mountains and valleys that lie between Los Angeles and the Mecca, 1915. Seattle, where the Forty-first Annual Session of the Imperial Council, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, opens next Tuesday. Bag and baggage Al Malakiah, Al Bahr and Al Zarbi Temple, the last two from San Diego and Phoenix respectively, will board the de luxe special train of the Santa Fe tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

R. R. Gregory is master of transportation for the caravan. On him devolve the duties of heading the train, which will include nomads and sheiks of the wandering tribes, and their beautiful wives. He has guaranteed that no finer train has ever left Los Angeles than will bear the travelers on their way. Illustrious Potentate Robert Wankowski will lead his faithful followers as a caliph should lead them, and on arrival in San Francisco, will accept the courtesies of that oasis through the brotherly feeling of Islam Temple, which has insisted on a day's entertainment.

The following day the pilgrims will be halted beneath Mt. Shasta and there they will be movingly alighted while at sport. The famous city of propheta, Mecca, will be reached next Monday morning and there the tired ones will be escorted to their hotel, through the arrangements of Karl Lott, who has looked far ahead for this purpose.

Mal Copp, heading his patrol of brilliant dervishes and dancers, who expect to capture all prizes for accuracy of step over desert sands, reports a full complement. President R. A. Helfner of the drill team, will oversee the business and of the trip and bring home the awards.

F. T. Helms, president of the band, is registered as among those present, but he will not need fear handling the band, Director Reg. Lasker has arranged all details as far as the strains of harmony are concerned. And among the harmonizers will be the choicest, the most famous of all vocalists in the tribes of the nation, under the leadership of J. W. Jump, who has guaranteed that all his followers shall be kept up to his name.

There will be a number of ladies in the party, among them Mrs. Wankowski, Mrs. H. G. Krohn, Mrs. V. Youngworth, Mrs. J. Walter Gray, Mrs. H. D. Alfonso, Mrs. Jump and others who have not yet signified their intention of definitely leaving. At least, F. B. Silverwood, Motley H. Flint and Leo Youngworth, with the illustrious Potentate, will be the official representatives of the Los Angeles Shriners at the convention.

HUNTINGTON-WALLACE CASE.

Land Company is Given Time to File Application for Land Involved in "Squatter Suit."

The Huntington Land and Improvement Company has been notified that it has until August 1 to file its application for the land in San Marino, containing six acres and a fraction, involved in the claim of Kenneth Wallace, and submit its proofs of purchase from the original Mexican grantors.

At that time a day will be set for the hearing of the claim of the company, and if the proof is not sufficient the land will then be subject to the homestead entries of John Kelso and Kenneth Wallace. In the meantime an abstract of the title is being prepared by the title insurance and trust company, showing an unbroken line of descent from the original Mexican owners.

L. E. Keeley, who, it is alleged, induced young Wallace to make the homestead entry, is in Washington, and it is claimed, has been making an unsuccessful effort to enlist Washington land attorneys in the case.

The hearing on the presentation made by the Huntington Land and Improvement Company will be an ex-parte affair, and it is only in case that corporation makes good its claim to the land that Kelso and Wallace will be allowed to present their conflicting claims.

If, at the ex-parte hearing, the Huntington Land and Improvement Company can show that it purchased the land involved, but that it had been thrown out of the Spanish grant and designated as government land, the corporation will be permitted to purchase it again at the government price of public land, or at the rate of $2.50 an acre. The small area is estimated to be worth $10,000, as it is in the center of an aristocratic residence section.

BOY INSTANTLY KILLED.

Riding on Bicycle Behind Truck, He Is Thrown Beneath It and Run Over.

Paul Lynch, 14 years old, who lived with his mother at No. 6310 Sunset boulevard, was instantly killed early yesterday afternoon when he fell from his bicycle under the heavy wheels of an oil truck. His body was removed to Strother's morgue, Hollywood, and the police made an investigation of the case. They found that Thomas McCall, driver of the truck, was not to blame for the tragedy.

The boy was riding east on Sunset boulevard and grasped the rear end of the truck so he could coast along the highway. At Vine street, the driver suddenly put on his brakes and the truck came to an abrupt standstill. Young Lynch was not prepared for the stop and he was hurled from the seat of his bicycle under the rear wheels of the heavy vehicle.

"I did not know the boy was hanging on," behind me," I heard him scream," the driver told the police. "The truck had almost stopped but the young fellow fell under the wheel a moment too soon."

ATTEND EXHIBITION.

O. G. Singer, vice-president of the Los Angeles Furniture Company, and O. B. Cronkhite, buyer for the concern, are in Grand Rapids attending the furniture exhibition that opened there last Monday. They left here last Friday and before returning will go to Chicago, New York and all the principal furniture centers of the country.

Some of the Shriners who will represent Los Angeles at Seattle. At the gathering of the temples for the Imperial Council meeting there next week. The large group is of Al Malakiah Temple's Chanters. At the upper left is illustrious Potentate Wankowski, and on his right, F. B. Silverwood, who will probably be his successor as the chief of Al Malakiah.

MANY CHILDREN ARE GLADDENED.

LITTLE HANDS RECEIVE GIFT OF FRESH FRUIT.

Lankershim Ranchman, Who has Often Brightened Life for Small City Dwellers, Loads a "Times" Truck with Apples and Visits Playgrounds, Hospitals and Homes.

Stacked high with large boxes of apricots from the ranch of Charles M. Pierce at Lankershim, and under the personal supervision of the ranchman himself, a large Times automobile truck yesterday made the rounds of the playgrounds, hospitals and orphanages of Los Angeles, carrying a message of good cheer in the form of fresh fruit. At every stopping point Mr. Pierce was greeted with great enthusiasm, and at times was almost mobbed by the excited youngsters.

Five playgrounds, all the orphanages and several rescue missions were included in the route of the big truck. At each stop the children crowded about the rear of the automobile, while Mr. Pierce, from his high perch, distributed the fruit into the outstretched little hands.

Sixty-five boxes of fruit were distributed in this manner. Everyone received a large share and all were happy.

Yesterday was not the first time that Mr. Pierce has found pleasure in giving the children of the city happiness in physical form. A year ago he distributed, much in the same manner, eight tons of fruit and vegetables taken from his Lankershim ranch. Hundreds of the poorer children, whose education in so far as peaches, apricots and other fruits are concerned had theretofore been confined to the paucity of designs on cans, have been made happy by the ranchman's excursion.

Mr. Pierce himself derives unbounded delight from giving the little ones enjoyment. While manager of the Balloon Route Excursions some time ago, he was accustomed to run trips free for the orphans and poor children. It was on one of these excursions that he succeeded in getting 440 children on board the battleship fleet, then stationed at Venice, on a day when orders had been issued not to allow any visitors whatsoever.

The playgrounds visited yesterday were the Recreation, Downey, Hamard, Violet and Castelar. Among other places where the big truck touched were the Los Angeles Orphanage, the Children's Hospital and the Belle White Home. Many rescue missions were also visited.

Mr. Pierce said yesterday he intends to make this trip a regular affair, and hopes to be able to have a more varied and larger quantity of fruit to distribute next time.

OFF FOR THE MOUNTAINS.

Many Angelenos Taking Camp Sites Offered by Government in Angeles National Forest.

The vacation home season in the big woods of the Angeles National Forest is on, and scores of Angelenos and lovers of nature from various sections are securing residence sites in the reserve. During the year ending July 1, there were 243 permits issued for the erection of summer homes in the woods, some of them costing as much as $1000.

The latest site for residences on government land is located about fifteen miles east of San Bernardino, and involves a picturesque drive over the new Mill Creek road, completed last fall by the government, with the famous Seven Oaks among the attractions.

Since the inauguration by the Agricultural Department of the policy of opening up these places at a nominal cost ($15 a year rental) there have been issued nearly 1000 permits.

SEEKING DELINQUENTS.

Internal Revenue Collections in This District were Very Good, but Many Failed to Pay.

The close of the fiscal year in the office of collector of the sixth internal revenue district finds a delinquent list of all the taxes recently collected on account of income, war and special taxes, of less than $30,000, out of a total of more than $1,000,000.

Yesterday the machinery was put in motion to collect the delinquent taxes, and deputies were given the warrants in distraint authorized by the Federal law. This is a sort of attachment that acts as a first lien on the property of the delinquent, and means that unless the tax is paid the property is subject to seizure and sale by the collector.

Mr. Pierce, who has been pastor of the Church of the Redeemer in the Minnesota city for more than a quarter of a century, has won prominence as a speaker and writer. He is the author of several books, including "The Will and Wisdom of Jesus," "Applied Evolution" and "Liberty and Justice."

"We have wished earnestly for your coming," Rev. M. Tillingshast said. "We have been planning for your coming for some months. We placed the light in the window, and now we rejoice that you are here. Even in this world of ours we have been lonely without you. Here, on this side of the mountains, we feel that we are a good way from our dear Eastern friends."

"You are most welcome in this church and in this city. This church in which we are gathered is a place of prophecy. It was built under the watchful eye of a vision of the future. It stands here as a monument to his love and faith. The builders of this church gave an answer to the question often asked as to how the church shall operate. Here is a working center."

The general theme of "Christian Efficiency" was discussed by the following speakers last evening: Rev. Edson J. Reifelder, Massachusetts; "Education Efficiency," Mr. George H. Alcott, Illinois; "Executive Efficiency," Rev. A. G. Earle, Massachusetts; "Denominational Efficiency," Rev. C. W. Nash, Los Angeles; "Spiritual Efficiency."

At the afternoon session the National Young People's Union elected the following officers: President, Rev. George A. Gay, New York; vice-president, Stanley C. Stall, Ohio; and secretary-treasurer, Carl F. Elmer, Massachusetts.

The convention of the Women's National Missionary Association will convene this morning. Mrs. Minnie J. Ayres, the president, will preside. Several addresses will be delivered by missionary experts and reports will be made on the work in foreign fields.

GOVERNORS DUE SOON.

Virginia's Executive to Arrive Monday; Utah's Wednesday—Expects May Enter Efficiency Big Parade.

Gov. H. C. Stuart of Virginia, and party of fifteen will arrive in Los Angeles next Monday morning, according to advices received by the Chamber of Commerce today.

They will be received by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, 1915 General Committee and the Virginia Society, and will be entertained with an automobile ride around the city and a luncheon.

In the evening they will be guests of the Virginia Society at a dinner at the Sierra Madre Club.

The Richmond Blues will arrive next Tuesday and will be entertained at luncheon. A grand ball will be given in their honor by the Virginia Society. The Virginia Blues may take part in the Elks' parade on Wednesday.

Gov. William Spry of Utah will be here next Wednesday, according to latest advices, and the 500 Boy Scouts of Utah accompanying him may take part in the Wednesday parade.

No matter how severe an attack of diarrhoea may be, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy never fails to give relief.—[Advertisement.]

GIVING AWAY A TRUCKLOAD OF FRUIT.

To the poor children of Los Angeles. At the extreme top is C. M. Pierce of Lankershim, passing out ripe apricots by the double handful from a Times truck to the little ones of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus home on North Hill street. All the fruit came from Mr. Pierce's ranch and was distributed to many homes.

TWO SERIES CLOSE.

The Sunday-school convention and the meeting of the Young People's Christian Union, two of the interesting series of the united conventions of the Universalist church, closed yesterday and after the intermission of a delightful garden party at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo late in the afternoon, the officers of the general convention took charge in evening.

The business men of the Crown City are co-operating with the ministers and the members of the congregations of various denominations in extending special courtesies to delegates, many of whom have spoken of the cordial hospitality. The pulpits of the different churches have been opened to the visiting ministers for next Sunday.

The ladies' reception committee, with Chairman Edward A. Hagan presiding, held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Elks' clubroom. More than 200 members of the committee were present. Plans for the reception and entertainment of the visiting ladies were discussed and details arranged for their comfort and enjoyment.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The banner event of the week from the standpoint of ladies' entertainment will be the reception at the Alexandria next Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 6 o'clock. The open-air dance Wednesday night and Shrine Auditorium ball Friday night are other gala events of the week's social calendar, while automobile rides, trips to the beaches and neighboring towns, concerts and luncheons will make up a full programme for the week.

Arizona Elks are planning a great showing of the week of the Grand Lodge reunion. All Arizona lodges are sending delegations and bands, and advices from the neighboring State are that from 1000 to 1500 Arizona members of the B.P.O.E. will take part in the great Elks' parade Thursday.

Tucson, Phoenix, Globe and Kingman lodges are sending the largest delegations, but the other lodges of the State also promise good representation. Blaine and Douglas Elks are coming with the El Paso delegation, but will march in their own division for the great parade.

New Orleans Lodge, No. 39, B.P.O.E., one of the oldest and also one of the largest of Elks' lodges, will have its usual place of honor in the parade. The New Orleans delegation is coming 125 strong on a special train arriving at noon Monday over the Southern Pacific. In a letter received yesterday by George Goldsmith, chairman of the Parade Committee, the Louisianaans announce their coming and ask for their usual place in the parade.

"We trust that, being one of the old lodges, one of the largest and traveling the longest distance, you will give us, as we have had for years, the head of one of the divisions," the letter said.

The assurance was telegraphed New Orleans that the Crescent City delegation had already been assigned to head division.

will go to San Francisco immediately following the reunion next week.

Frank L. Rain, a member of the Judiciary Committee of the Grand Lodge, and Col. C. L. Applegate, Grand Trustee, arrived at the Alexandria late last night.

In the meantime the local Elks have not been idle. Registration headquarters for the B.P.O.E. will open Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in the Pacific Electric Building, and a corps of stenographers and clerks will be on hand to register all visitors.

The Elks will assign them to quarters. The Registration Committee requests that all Elks of Los Angeles and Southern California will register Saturday and receive their badges in order that the clerical force may give prompt attention to all visitors the following day, when the bulk of the incoming Elks will begin to arrive.

"SIX PER-CENT AND SAFETY"

Just Arrived! A notable selection of bracelet watches.

Perhaps the finest selection of bracelet watches ever assembled in this city is now on display here.

The showing comprises the best productions of the Waltham and Waltham factories, range in price from the filled timepieces at $15, $21 and $25, to the platinum, and the creations at higher prices have them in all grades.

The bracelet watch is a "permanent institution" has come to stay. Buy one with perfect confidence that it will always be a valuable possession.

Therefore, buy carefully and judiciously. Buy from a reputation — and your will always be a complete pleasure.

Mr. Gordan says:

The whole month of August in San Francisco! That's where I'll be. I'm going to "close up shop" for the entire month and enjoy Cool August at the Exposition.

And, make no mistake, it is Cool then whether on Market Street, at the House, in Golden Gate Park or on the Exposition grounds.

Men who know San Francisco will prepare for it with "between seasons" clothes—neither too light nor too heavy.

My suggestion would be something along the line of a medium-weight Wash Cheviot in one of the new mixed line patterns.

"Gordan-Made" they're priced at $4. And worth it, too. So, better see me soon, for my door will be locked tight all of August.

Deeble Admits Getting Cash from Guarantee Fund.

Deeble not Committed as to Arbitrary Inflation.

Eleven Dollars Share Price Planned for Stock.

Deeble testified that the Guarantee Fund loaned money to himself and he thought to other defendants, and that of his indebtedness to the Guarantee Fund was for cash borrowed.

The witness testified that he had consulted Charles Cassat Davis, counsel for the investment company, as to the propriety or legality of paying dividends from sums turned up as appreciation of unsold estate, but had consulted Attorney Davis, who was employed in the company to draw up contracts and do other routine legal work, and who had brought letters from him that he had practiced in Washington, D. C. Deeble said he had consulted Mr. Davis on "matters of importance," but that he had never discussed the payment of dividends from appreciation of real estate with him, and he had never entertained any such idea as to its propriety.

"NO EFFECT ON SALES."

Deeble stated that he had not attempted to conceal the fact that dividends were paid to stockholders in "Homes" that dividends were paid only from profits actually earned and realized, and that the payment of dividends from the Guarantee Fund was intended to increase the borrowing power of the Guarantee Fund from the investment company.

One of the points brought out was before and during the time the witness was employed in February, 1912, by Robert Marshall, V. W. Miles and C. F. W. Palmer, the investment company had bought real estate in California, and Mr. Miles, acting as agent, had given a copy of the so-called agreement, containing a clause that the company would take over all real estate owned in the investment company, and would be paid for the same, to the witness, and that the witness had placed any definite amount of stock opposite his name. The agreement was not a contract, and the witness had not signed it, and that the witness had not signed it, and that the witness had not signed it.

Deeble testified that the witness had not signed it, and that the witness had not signed it, and that the witness had not signed it.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.
 CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) The trade balance in favor of the United States last week is over $20-000,000, and indications are that it will be still larger this week. Industrial centers report greater activity, one large eastern firm declaring a dividend of 250 per cent.
 Foreign holders, especially French, were sellers of American securities, taking present high prices as the time to recoup possible war losses. Bank clearings in Los Angeles increased $350,000 over last year.
 (Abroad.) The British export trade is still going down. June shows a decrease of $33,000,000, while they are buying more than ever.
 (For details see financial pages.)

WHY ADVISED?
 Washington is again advised of severe fighting outside of the City of Mexico and of the starvation within. What for?

DO THEY PAY?
 The Detroit street car lines manifest a cheerful willingness to sell out to the people for a municipal experiment—but do the people want anything that the companies want them to have?

TALKING BACK.
 Mr. Bryan has again demonstrated that every dog has his day. He has been speaking to all the editors of the United States and Canada up at San Francisco.
 Heaven knows the editors have had their say to William.

HAND AND BRAIN.
 It is quite all right to realize that the brain develops through the use of the hands.
 It is all wrong to forget that this evolution is a racial tendency, and that, as the individual finds himself at the pinnacle of such evolution, his profit is greater in proportion to his ability to dispense with all physical effort.

KEEPING THE BALANCE.
 The State Commission of Vocational Education says that our high schools are not sufficiently practical. Our specialist should allow for his own overspecialization.
 Lots of children now attending high school have no intention of living by their hands alone. If they can get some mental culture while they are in school they will find it quite useful in their maturity. Let us not make our schools lopsided with manual arts.

CHRISTIANITY AND SLAUGHTER.
 The soldiers in both armies in Europe are making a fairly successful effort to consider the teachings of Christ with the instructions of the devil. British troops no longer march to the music of "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." As they go forward to the onslaught they sing:
 "Oward, Christian soldiers,
 Bayonet the German,
 Obey our Savior's teachings,
 Exterminate the vermin."
 And the Germans no longer sing "The Watch on the Rhine." They shout:
 "Hail, kindly light,
 Raise high your stinkpots bright
 And hurl them in your trenches."

LET THEM ALL IN.
 We see that congregations of the Un-versalist faith are now holding a convention in Pasadena. It is amusing to recall what a shock it was to orthodox Christians a few years back to learn that anybody professed a faith in the ultimate salvation of everybody. It almost seemed to rob many Christians of their chief delight in heaven to feel that their wicked neighbors were not going to spend eternity in hell. In fact the flames of torment used to be among the greatest consolations of the devout. Of late most of us have reached a point where we would be so grateful if we got through to the Kingdom of Grace ourselves that we refuse to worry over the possibility of some other poor devil having the same good fortune.

HOW IT WORKS.
 Japan has only one prima donna. The young woman who thus honors her country by attaining the climax of a glorious art is now at San Francisco. She attributes the realization of her life's ambition to the fact that she became a Christian convert and learned to pray. Perhaps it is not always God who answers prayer in an immediate sense of the proposition. It may be that the complete surrender of self to a single exalted idea is brought about by earnest supplication. The individual through prayer places himself in an attitude that invites and even compels materialization.
 Not many of us are capable of this exalted dedication of ourselves to a high purpose without feeling that we are leaning upon a power that is greater than self.

WHEN WITH A CONSCIENCE.
 Coldwater, Miss, boasts of a conscientious hen. She was incubating when a thief stole upon her in the night and carried her away, with the eggs upon which she was sitting. They made a nest for her in her new home, replaced the eggs and left her.
 Whereupon she cackled to herself and in fowl language exclaimed: "The Sabine women among humans may have quietly endured such treatment, but I will be dogged if I will undertake the labor of incubation and the care of bringing up a family for the benefit of a measly hen thief.
 Good-by, embryo chicks, your mama is going home."
 And home the conscientious chickabiddy went, leaving her eggs behind her. The thief did not profit the robber, for the eggs were overripe even for omelettes.

INADEQUACY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

Great Britain is conducting an economic war against Germany as well as a war with soldiers. She seeks to keep not merely arms and munitions of war and foodstuffs out of Germany, but goods and commodities of any and every kind. She also seeks to prevent the exportation from Germany of anything that would bring money into that country.

Germany has adopted a similar policy toward England, and both nations pursue their purposes in brazen defiance of treaty obligation and that collection of inoperative maxims called "international law."

A neutral vessel carrying goods from a neutral port to a neutral port may not, under "international law" or any law—divine or human—be seized on the high seas by a belligerent, for the oceans are free, and even when the goods are contraband of war—such as food to feed an enemy's soldiers—it must clearly appear that the ultimate destination of the cargo is to an enemy country, and the apparent consignment to a neutral port is intermediate and made with intent to deceive.

One of the war rights recognized by "international law" is the right of blockade of an enemy port; the right of preventing vessels of any nationality from entering such port or departing therefrom. But such blockade must be actual. It must be enforced by armed vessels, and such vessels must be within a prescribed distance of the entrance to the blocked harbor.

A British cruiser may lawfully capture or destroy an American ship that attempts to enter a blocked German port. She may also capture or destroy an American ship which is seeking to escape a blocked German port. A German cruiser or submarine may similarly capture or destroy an American ship which attempts to enter or leave a British port.

But a lawful seizure and capture or destruction of a neutral vessel which is attempting to run a blockade of an enemy port becomes an act of piracy when the seizure or destruction is effected upon the high seas.

The right of blockade is limited to enemy ports. England has no right to blockade Amsterdam because between Amsterdam and Germany there is land communication over which supplies consigned to and unloaded at Amsterdam may be transmitted to Germany.

Germany has no right to blockade Barcelona or Santander in Spain because supplies can be carried across the Pyrenees into France, nor to blockade Stockholm in Sweden because goods can be sent across the Gulf of Bothnia into Russia.

In the case of the Peterhoff (5 Wall, U. S. 54), it was held by the Supreme Court of the United States that there was no authority in international law for the blockade of the Rio Grande so as to affect trade with the Mexican side of the river.

The right to establish a blockade of the high seas, to declare that the seacoast of a country twenty, fifty or a hundred miles from shore, is a war zone is a right never before asserted by any power and will never be conceded by maritime nations or adopted as a principle of international law.

But it is pointless to discuss questions of international law, for there is no international law, and if there were, "inter arma silent leges."

Law is a rule of action prescribed by a superior to an inferior power, and a rule which nobody has power to make, and nobody has power to interpret, and nobody has power to enforce, is as ineffective as the Pope's bull against the comet, or the command of Canute to the incoming tide to advance no further.

The great English jurist, Lord Coleridge, said: "International law is an inexact expression, and it is apt to mislead if its inexactness is not kept in mind. Law implies a lawgiver and a tribunal capable of enforcing it and coercing its transgressors. But there is no common lawgiver to sovereign states; and no tribunal has the power to bind them by decree or coerce them if they transgress. The law of nations is that collection of usages which civilized states have agreed to observe in their dealings with one another. What these usages are, whether a particular one has or has not been agreed to, must be matter of evidence. Treaties and acts of state are but evidence of the agreement of nations."

An American vessel loaded with cotton belonging to an American owner and consigned to Rotterdam is stopped upon the high seas by a British cruiser and destroyed. The vessel destroyed is neutral, her destination is neutral and her cargo is non-contraband. The act of seizure and destruction was an unwarranted violation of the law of nations. But what tribunal is to enforce the law of nations? It is an elementary principle of law that the court in which an action is brought must have jurisdiction of the person of the defendant and of the subject matter. If a British vessel belonging to a British subject collides with and sinks an American vessel belonging to an American citizen, and the offender afterwards enters an American harbor, the owner of the sunken ship can bring an action against the owner and captain of the British ship and impound the vessel as security for the satisfaction of any judgment that may be recovered.

But if the ship that wrought the destruction is a British government ship, commanded by a British naval officer, the sufferer is remediless. He cannot sue George the Fifth and he cannot tie up H. B. M.'s war vessel. He can only appeal to the United States for aid and the United States will aid him. It will state the case to the government of His Britannic Majesty and the government of His B. M. will look into it as soon as it is not otherwise engaged, and, in the meantime, will convey to the United States the renewed assurances of its distinguished consideration. And after a reasonable time for investigation, five or six years for instance, it will apologize for the enthusiastic act of its captain, whom in the meantime it has made an admiral, a K.C.B. and a Viscount for his bravery in sinking an unarmed and unresisting ship, and ten years later it will pay to the United States the value of the ship and cargo destroyed, and the United States may pay the money to the person entitled to it and it may conclude to keep it in the Federal treasury until the day when the heavens shall roll together as a scroll and the sea give up its dead.

It is not time for civilized nations to create a genuine, vigorous international code of laws and substitute them for the present collection of mouldy, inoperative maxims erroneously called "international law."

A Sorry Failure.

code of laws and substitute them for the present collection of mouldy, inoperative maxims erroneously called "international law."

All that is needed is a world congress to enact such laws, a world court to interpret them, and a world army and navy to enforce them. The cost on a peace basis of maintaining the armies and navies of the six warring nations of Europe for the year 1915 was over sixteen billions of dollars. A world army and navy would not cost one-tenth of that sum.

PROGRESSIVE LAMENT.

Progressive editors are becoming hard pressed for excuses with which to explain the failure of the ridiculous third-party movement to capitalize progress. A wall arises from their ink pots because progressive measures are enacted in States that still languish under benighted Republican or Democratic administrations. A choice specimen of the Progressive lament is the following parenthetical extract from a recent editorial in the Fresno Republican:

"Every Governor who has come to California (and this year every Governor, including Governors, comes to California) has proclaimed himself a 'progressive' (with a small 'p') and has boasted of the progressive measures passed under his administration."
 The editor of the Republican reminds one of the comic supplement Irishman who explained his attack on a Hebrew neighbor by saying that he had just learned that the Jews killed Christ. Progressive movements have carried civilizations forward in times of crises ever since the first wild tribes banded together for common defense. The symbol of the car of progress is older than the pyramids. Its path is cut through the wilderness of despair, the morass of greed, the desert of sloth and the garden of Gethsemane. Its beacon light is the star of hope. Fighting under the banner of progress, countless millions have offered themselves as human sacrifices in combat against slavery, tyranny, disease and crime. At times the wheels of the car have been locked for a century, but its progress has marked the upward movement of the race. But it remained for a coterie of ambitious politicians to organize, as brigands had organized before them, for the purpose of reaping the fields that others had sown and to essay to capitalize progress by spelling it with a capital "P." These claimed as the fruits of their own endeavor the accumulated wealth of civilization gleaned from the harvests of the ages. Just as Mohammed taught that all virtue is to be found within the Koran, they taught that the only progressive movement possible was under the direction of a party that labeled itself "Progressive" with a capital "P."

How bitter is the lament that "Every Governor that has come to California has proclaimed himself as 'progressive' with a small 'p'." Not at all. It may indicate that she was more particular than some. I never see you exhibiting your husband around."

place of a sun, and when the first cloud crossed the face of the political heavens its light went out.

Progressive legislation has not languished because the forces that fought at Armageddon are scattered or dead; the wheels of the car of progress still revolve. The forward movement that was inaugurated in 1896, when the Republican party came back to its own after four years of Democratic demoralization and business panic, was checked by the strife that gave birth to the Progressive party in 1912; but it has not been abandoned. The slogan of "Progress and Prosperity" on the Republican standard has not been effaced. Truly progressive administrations were the glory of our republic before the men who sought to copy right the term and spell it with a capital "P" were born. They will continue to be the pride of future generations; but our children, in emulating the example of their fathers, will continue to spell "progressive" with a small "p."

CONSECRATION OF BLOOD.

A President Poincaré of France has sent a message to the King of Italy congratulating him on his noble repudiation of the obligations of Italy to Germany and Austria, and of his butting into the fight. President Poincaré avers that the entire French nation rejoices to think that the two sister nations will "fight once more for the defense of their common civilization and for the freedom of oppressed peoples." He says that, "related by their traditions and by the vitality of the Latin genius, Italy and France are united forever by this new brotherhood of arms and by the consecration of their natural relations."

President Poincaré did not, of course, in his reference to the traditions by which France and Italy are "related," make mention of the incident of Napoleon the First saying to his army, "There are the Alps and there is Italy," meaning thereby "climb the Alps and ravage Lombardy. Steal from and kill and ravish those detestable Italians."

President Poincaré wishes to the King of Italy "the success of your valiant troops with whom the allied armies will be proud to fight to the end the enemies of justice and liberty"—Germany and Austria thereby meaning.

The President of France finally expresses the hope "that Italy may happily realize her national aspirations"—the said national aspirations being for Austrian territory and German property and available loot of any kind.

INDIANA'S SCANDAL HARVEST.

CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES
 BY WILLIAM DUDLEY FOULKE,
 Former United States Civil Service Commissioner and President of National Municipal League.

IT WAS Burke who observed that he knew of no way of drawing up an indictment against a whole people. The State of Indiana has not indeed reached that point, but it seems to be taking long strides in that direction.

Not only have the chief officers of a number of its cities—Terre Haute, Muncie, New Castle, Indianapolis—recently been indicted, one of them being now in the Federal penitentiary, but more than a hundred individuals, great and small, from Mayor and judge down to policeman and bartender, were tried; and most of them were convicted in connection with the Terre Haute, election frauds.

Now an indictment has been found against one hundred and twenty-eight persons, including Thomas Taggart, the Democratic boss of the State; Mayor Bell of Indianapolis, Chief of Police Perrot, Frank R. Baker, former prosecuting attorney, and a larger number of other prominent men, for conspiracy in the last election in Indianapolis to alter tally sheets, stuff ballot-boxes, destroy ballots, use fictitious votes, repeat, deceive illiterate voters, hire men to stay away from the polls.

The investigation began on January 23 and witnesses were heard for eighty-five days, the entire number examined being 137. And yet, during all this time, very little was heard of the matter, and the indictment came as a surprise to a great portion of the public.

Both the prosecutor in charge of the case and the judge to whom the indictment was returned are considered to be men of high character, and there is a general belief that there were frauds of some description in the last election at Indianapolis, though very few claim to know what was their extent or which of the numerous defendants, if any, were involved in them. It is believed, however, that it will be much more difficult to obtain a conviction of any great number of the accused before an Indianapolis jury than it was to convict the Terre Haute conspirators in the Federal Court with a jury taken from all parts of the State.

Without passing upon the guilt of anybody in this special case an impression prevails throughout the State that there is entirely too much "statesmanship" of this particular character in control of Indianapolis elections. The conviction of any man who shall be proved guilty will be greeted with satisfaction.

RIPLING RHYMES.

DREAMING.

I dreamed one night that I had died, had crossed the river-cold and wide, and sat at ease on t'other shore, and talked with Poe of "Lost Lenore." I conspired with the famed and great, who long ago had pulled their freight from mundane scenes, and left renown which passing ages cannot deny. I talked with Shakespeare, Pope and Scott, and all they said was blooming rot. The Bard of Avon talked away of how he used to sit and play with cronies at the Blue Bear Inn and lubricate his works with gin. The poet Byron came along; he didn't talk of art or song, but bragged until the light grew dim of distances he used to swim. And, sure enough, he came to sleep by talking cattle, swine and sheep. Their thoughts were anchored to the past, to trifling things that did not last. Their harps were hung on rusty nails, while they sat telling ancient tales. The only one who talked of song and kept it up the whole day long was Robert Southey—and his lay would make mules shy and run away. When morning came I woke; said I, "This comes from eating too much pie."

Rich old American bachelors who are in hospitals are having their names changed to "Mrs. John Doe." Nurses have gone to the European continent to get married.

The world is getting tired of the "drive at that particular article" and fireworks. Why not limit the declaration of the Fourth of July to the declaration? It is good for the soul.

If Gov. Willis of Ohio is to be White House as President it will be a pity to widen the doors. President's 375 pounds and stands six feet in height.

Billy Carlson has laid his head on a pillow and is asleep. It was worth him to have the acclaim of the people and the sordid gold awarded to him.

When the Germans start on their march through Russia they will be met by their haversacks packed with return trip. Napoleon found the Russians rather inhospitable.

Seventy of the ninety young women used from Radcliffe College during the war have no plans for the future, but do not always tell what there is in the head of a pretty woman's head.

During the vacation trip of President son he spent a good deal of his time sleep-trying to catch up on the women delegates of one kind or another deprived him of his Washington vacation.

A New Hampshire man engaged in conversation with a fellow countryman in conversation until help was frightened away the fellow countryman. What a Secretary of State he would be! But he may not be a "deserving fellow."

Senator John Worth Kern has pointed a United States circuit judge's outlook for the election of a Democrat in Indiana is none too rosy. A great many of his party friends are under indictment election frauds.

The negro citizens of Richmond, holding an exposition, showing the results of the race since it achieved freedom. Colored people are better housed and contented in the old capital of the Confederacy than anywhere else in the South.

Ostrich farmers are complaining of hard times, owing to the unpopularity of feathers. Why not start a ostrich industry showing the value of the ostrich as an article of food? It is in these stirring war times nobody can show the white feather.

WHAT ARE YOU HERE FOR?
 If you've never made another man's life a hell in life;
 If you've never helped a brother in his struggle and his strife;
 If you've never been a comfort to a man and the woman;
 Will you tell us what you're here for in this lovely land of more?

If you've never made the pathway of a neighbor glow with sin;
 If you've never brought a whole lot of fellow-heart with fun;
 If you've never cheered a fellow who tried to help along;
 Will you tell us what you're here for in this lovely land of song?

If you've never made a cowardly world a sweeter place
 Because you lived within it and made it with your grace;
 If you've never heard a woman say "child proclaim"
 A blessing on your boy's name and your hand at the game!

ARM WELCOME TO WINE MEN.

of the Industry as Guests and Hosts.

When the people of the United States learn to differentiate between the effects of spirituous liquors and the drinking of wine as a beverage, the great problem of temperance in the United States will be solved.

Wine organization and harmony among the wine growers, success will be secured to one of the biggest industries in America.

Some of the brilliant speeches made last night at the Alexandria, following a delightful banquet given by the wine growers of Southern California in honor of more than a score of visiting vinticulturists of the East, were on their way to San Francisco to attend the International Convention of Vinticulturists next week.

Among the distinguished visitors were Prof. W. B. Alwood, president of the American Vinticulturists Association, and A. Dewey, president of the United Wine Growers Association.

Alwood told of the purpose of the convention, which will be the first of its kind in the United States. He said it was with a view to the betterment of the wine industry in this country and those abroad.

Dewey said there should be no more co-operation between the wine growers and the distillers. He said the wine growers should be able to sell their wine at a profit, and the distillers should be able to sell their spirits at a profit.
